

Your packaging strategy

The auditability of your projects and processes

Your model optimization and retraining

Whether your use cases call for real-time scoring or online machine learning

The involvement of business teams

The scalability of your system and processes

Your IT environment consistency strategy

You rollback and failover strategies